A natural way to save resources

"Aura Long Life lights longer and also provides a good light. I know that it will be cheaper in the long run, even though I have not calculated exactly how much we will save. Fueltech is an ISO certified company and the environmental factor is of great importance. We are constantly looking to work in a more environmentally friendly way, and this is a natural way of saving resources." So says Lennart Johansson at Fueltech.

Speedy deliveries

It is a great advantage for Fuel Tech that Aura Light is so close geographically.

"Getting in touch with the company is easy, and we enjoy prompt deliveries," says Lennart.
